interpreted in the broadest of terms and certainly not just in the sense of war it may include anything from colour, line, media, ecology, season, religion, current affairs, etc.
etc.*

The competition is open to any artist, in any medium, including photography, sculpture, film, design makers
and 3D

JULY

Exhibition at Lower Slaughter with Jan Whitton

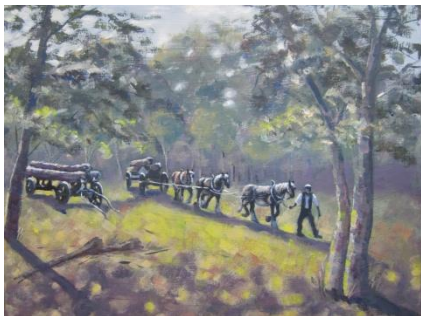

I was delighted when Jan asked me if I would like to join her for a week at Lower Slaughter Wednesday 20th July – Tuesday 26th July. Village Hall, The Square, Lower Slaughter, GL54 2HS. Some smaller more affordable works will be at this exhibition.

AUGUST

Gloucestershire Society of Artists is exhibiting at Newark Park, Ozleworth, Wotton-under-Edge, Gloucestershire, GL12 7PZ, 3rd August – 4th September

Loggers
Oil on canvas

Newark Park is a National Trust owned Tudor hunting lodge to a fashionable home, set in a spectacular estate standing proud on top of the Cotswold escarpment, looking down into the Ozleworth valley and to the Mendips beyond. The Newark estate is situated in an unspoilt corner of Gloucestershire, with barely a sign of modern life visible in any direction. A place of architectural intrigue, quaint gardens and sprawling parkland there is much to see and do at Newark. It is well worth a visit – especially when the exhibition is on!

OCTOBER

Art Affirming Life Exhibition

I will be exhibiting here
In October 2016 an art exhibition will be held in support of Sue Ryder Leckhampton Court Hospice from the 22nd to 24th with a private viewing on the evening of Friday the 21st.

The exhibition will be held in the prestigious Long Gallery of Thirlestaine House, Cheltenham College and will provide a platform for the work of established artists from all over Gloucestershire and from surrounding counties.

The money raised from this will support the work of Sue Ryder - Leckhampton Court.
